AIRPORTS

MOSCOW

Most airlines arrive at Domodedovo airport. A few (e.g. Aeroflot) use Sheremetev airport.

If you have a lot of luggage, you can get a taxi. You are advised to use the official taxis available at the desks in the airport and to avoid the drivers who will be waiting for you when you arrive, offering their services. They will probably overcharge you and their vehicles are not always well maintained. If you are arriving for a course separately from the group, the RLUS representatives will book a taxi for you to meet your flight and advise you of the current prices.

DOMODEDOVO

The Aeroexpress train service to Павелецкий вокзал runs every half hour throughout the day. The station is at the far end of the airport from international arrivals. If you are travelling to Павелецкий вокзал by metro to catch the train to Domodedovo, make sure you leave by the green line. The circle line exit is a long way from the station!

From the airport, there are also bus and minibus (маршрутка) services to Домодедовская metro station on the green line.

SHEREMETEVO

The Aeroexpress train service to Белорусский вокзал runs every half hour throughout the day. There are also bus and minibus (маршрутка) services to речной вокзал at the end of the green line. A few buses also go to the metro планерная at the end of the violet line.

If you need to transfer from one airport to another and don't want to use a taxi, take a bus to the metro. You can then travel between домодедовская and речной вокзал, from where you can get a bus to the airport. Allow at least three hours, even by taxi, as Moscow traffic can be horrendous!

ST PETERSBURG

From the new terminal there are buses and minibuses (маршрутка) to московская metro. From there you can get to your accommodation on the metro.
